(Steve Towson)

Petrol explodes at 9:15
cars are left helpless
stranded on the street and I'm just standing here watching this world the hive watching the machine as it struggles to survive

but oh no
Ngombi's not dead

well men and women look all around
trying to find someone to bring on down
to their level of contentment at their life's achievements
wanting all to feel their bereavement for our souls
the trees have all gone long ago
how long for survival
no one knows

but oh no
Ngombi's not dead
I say oh

so breathe on deep while you still can let the gases rise up and fill your head for while you put your faith inside of your tv the whole world it is fucked and so are we
