(Steve Towson)

You've got to get out of your bored rooms and hear what is happening down on the picket line try hearing what we're saying stop dictating to us from the corporate side you better run while time's still vacant cause you won't get no second chance cause unlike to you time is coming up it's coming up and we're going to the promised land going to the promised land

I see my brother and father fighting I see my mother she's working her fingers to the bone trying to keep us fighting our brothers and our fathers in another land well you may have won this battle but the war it is not over for while you sit there gloating our people are coming from behind to take the promised land

I say no more killing in Palestine I say no more killing in Mayanamar I say all people are welcome I say all people are our people for this is our promised land
