(Steve Towson)

When I look out my window I see things are going fast I see my people their faces are getting blurred by their past for too many lies and deceipt have stopped our true unity for when the revolution it comes we shall create our freedom

I talked to the preacher he said I must bow before God the politicians they believe that we will obey unjust laws for it is we I say who hold the power we are a force to be reckoned with for when the revolution comes

we shall create our freedom
i say sweet freedom
