I live living the land of the free
And I like how it feels when you lean on me
Ever since you wondered into my back yard
I've dropped my resistance and lowered my guard
You've got the pieces of my heart all in a row
Knock one down and the whole thing goes

Chorus

The domino theory of love
It only takes a shove
I fall....you fall
We've got to keep our defenses up
That's the domino theory of love

The game of romance is a balancing act
Two steps forward and one step back
Take a liberty, give a little ground
Next thing you know you'll be sliding on down
When it comes to sorting out our hearts and our minds
We're just a couple push overs standing in line.

Chorus

When it comes to sorting out our hearts and our minds
We're all a couple push overs standing in line.

The domino theory of love
It only takes a shove
I fall....you fall
We've got to keep our defenses up
Or we'll all fall down together
It only takes a shove
I fall....you fall
We've got to keep our defenses up
