Sometimes you'll cry
Sometimes you're gonna hurt inside
Someday you'll be all alone
All by yourself in a crowded room
When you crave a savior
You can depend upon
You will find salvation
Like the morning finds the dawn

Wake up dreamer, your dream awaits
It won't be long til the morning breaks
Glide through the dew, go running from the shadows
Wake up dreamer, your dream awaits

Alas, my love!
There are some things you just can't rise above
If you could see yourself, yeah
You'd understand how much you need some help
When you crave a savior
You can depend upon
You will find salvation
Like the morning finds the dawn

Why live with a dark cloud over your head
When you could have love-light shining instead
Love-light
