On the bank of the Tennessee river in a small Kentucky town

I drew my first breath one cold November morning
And before my feet even touched the ground
With the doctors and the nurses gathered 'round
I started to dance, yeah, I started to dance

A little boy full of wide-eyed wonder, footloose and fancy free

But it would happen, as it does for every dancer
That I'd stumble on a truth I couldn't see
And find a longing deep inside of me, it said

"I am the heart, I need the heartbeat
I am the eyes, I need the sight
I realize that I am just a body, I need the life"

"I move my feet, I go through the motions
But who'll give purpose to chance
I am the dancer, I need the lord of the dance, yeah"

The world beneath us spins in circles
And this life makes us twist and turn and sway
But we were made for more than rhythm with no reason
By the one who moves with passion and with grace
As he dances over all that he has made

I am the heart, he is the heartbeat
I am the eyes, he is the sight
And I see clearly, I am just a body, he is the life

I move my feet, I go through the motions
But he gives purpose to chance
I am the dancer, he is the lord of the dance
Lord of the dance, lord of the dance, yeah

And while the music of his love and mercy plays
I will fall down on my knees and I will pray

I am the heart, you are the heartbeat
I am the eyes, you are the sight
And I see clearly, I am just a body, you are the life

I move my feet, I go through the motions
But you give purpose to chance
I am the dancer, you are the lord of the dance

I am the heart, you are the heartbeat
I am the eyes and you are the sight
And I see clearly, I am just a body, you are the life

I move my feet, I go through the motions
But you give purpose to chance
I am the dancer, you are the lord of the dance
I am the dancer, you are the lord of the dance, yeah

I am the dancer, lord of the dance
