"Awake"

Don't rekindle the fire that's just turned black, There's something about these coals that's telling you don't look back,

They say don't wait, no more.

Because soon you will be awake,
and this girl will sweep,
all of your mistakes away.

Don't forget your pack, keep it light,
It will keep the things, that keep you going through the night.

But It's so tough, to know what I've had wasn't enough,
To let you, let me, sit here and rest,
You've had a plan, and I know it's best.

Because I know I will soon be awake,
And this girl will sweep,
all of my mistakes away
