So you ran away from misery
You left it all behind
I know it's hard to love someone like me
So you packed your bags and made a trip
Around the world without me
What's that same for...
Cuz we were talking to loud this morning
And I'm feeling so weak at a time
Don't you see it's not really going the way I planned

We were talking about get out of this small world
We were talking 'bout a red sky with green and blue
Talking 'bout our big lives and our great jobs
And a house down in New Orleans
Now I see you don't care anymore
For what I will or will not do
We were talking about you, yeah you, versus me

Ohw it's funny that you haven't shown up
Since the moment you ran away Well it'll maybe better to be gone until everything is okay
But couldn't you tell me when that would be cuz I waited so long for the right one and it doesn't really seem to be you

So we were talking about get out of this small world
Talking 'bout a red sky with green and blue
Talking 'bout our big lives and our great jobs
And a house down in New Orleans
Now I see you don't care anymore
For what I will or will not do
We were talking about you, yeah you, versus me

Talking bout you, yeah you versus me

And maybe someday we will meet again
And we can tell each other everything we've learned but first I'm gonna make a trip around the world

We were talking about get out of this small world

Talking 'bout a red sky with green and blue
Talking 'bout our big lives and our great jobs
And a house down New Orleans
Now I see you don't care at all
For what I will or will not do
We were talking about you, yeah you,
Talking bout you, yeah you talking bout you, yeah you, versus me
