This city doesn't know my name
I'm holding tight on to the place I came from
And if you think that I'll be stuck this way
It sure feels like it, it sure feels like it
I'm dying just to see another face
That looks at things in the exact same way
And I don't want something just to replace
What let go of me

I don't need serious
I don't need no loving'
'Cause honestly I'm petrified just thinking of it
Right now I can't go through that again
I just need a friend
I just need a friend

The night seems to be my enemy
It hold on tight and keeps me wondering
If and when I'll be moving on cause
Recently it's hard to be so strong
I'm not looking for help to forget like some Eternal sunshine on a spotless sky and
I'd love to love for her to move along but It's so hard for me

I don't need serious
I don't need no loving'
'Cause honestly I'm petrified just thinking of it
Right now I can't go through that again
I just need a friend
I just need a friend
(Interlude)

I don't need serious
I don't need no loving
'Cause honestly I'm petrified just thinking of it
Right now I can't go through that again
I don't need a serious
I don't need no loving
'Cause honestly I'm petrified just thinking of it
Right now I can't go through that again
I just need a friend

I just need a friend
I just need a friend
I just need a friend
This city doesn't know my name
I'm holding tight onto the place I came from
And if you think that I'll be stuck this way
It sure feels like it
