They say your love will surely fade girl
When things go wrong and trouble calls
But they don't know that your sweet sunshine babe
Will never fade when darkness falls

They say that when the chips are down girl
Your love won't stay so long my friend
But they don't know that your sweet loving babe
Has been around through thick and thin

I'd be a fool right now
If I should hurt you girl
I'd be a fool right now
If I should leave you girl

I'd be a fool right now
If I wouldn't love you girl
I'd be a fool right now
On the outside looking inside

They say your love is surely going
Just like a snowman in the sun
But they don't know that your sweet loving babe
Was there when all my friends were gone

I'd be a fool right now
If I should hurt you girl
I'd be a fool right now
If I should leave you girl

I'd be a fool right now
If I wouldn't love you girl
I'd be a fool right now
On the outside looking inside

All our dreams would fall and crumble into dirt
If I walk away from you I'd be the one to hurt
One day my heart was surely dying, dying, dying baby
Just like a flower without rain
They just don't know that your sweet sunshine babe
Made my life blossom again

And so the story goes around baby, yeah, yeah
That this is just a passing phase
But I believe in your sweet loving loving babe
With every summer falling rain

I'd be a fool right now
If I should hurt you girl
I'd be a fool right now
If I should leave you girl

I'd be a fool right now
If I wouldn't love you girl
I'd be a fool right now
On the outside looking inside
