

Stevie Wonder "Just Enough To Ease The Pain"

Visit "Just Enough To Ease The Pain" on MotoLyrics.com

WRITERS STEVIE WONDER, ANGELA B. SATTERWHITE

If my world seemed dark and gloomy
And my life seemed not worthwhile
Would you leave me here alone girl?
Would you leave me here to cry?
How you say you idolize me
Don't leave me in dismay
Now you know my heart is dying
Yet you leave me here to cry
Now you turn and walk away
You give me love enough to ease the pain
And then you take your love away
You give me love enough to ease the pain
And then you take your love away from me

Now I've been my own palm reader
And I've shown myself the way
Girl, don't you have no good intentions
For with a dying heart you play
You give me love enough to ease the pain
And then you take your love away
You give me love enough to ease the pain
And then you take your love away from me

Visit Stevie Wonder page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.