It crawled in his mind out of hate a parasite was born from their fate
Oozing its way into the brain of a symbol they once called god
To rip and to tear shatter and kill awful destruction is now fulfilled
All their lives they believed the ward And all their lives they believed in trust And all their lives they believed in truth But in death they will see the light Possessed and squirming insane a nervous blood runs through his veins Paying the price destroying the lives of mankind who lives by the lord
They ripped and they tore shattered and killed and the awful destruction
Has been fulfilled, has been fulfilled...
Falling dead from the shock a tortured mind has come unlocked
Spilling out the secrets hidden in the mind telling them the future awaiting all mankind A journey into visions psychedelic dreams futuristic terror what eternity will bring Looking towards the heavens a gloomy evil sun staring at a legend it is done and god is gone...
