

Stiff Little Fingers

"Last Train From The Wasteland"

Visit "Last Train From The Wasteland" on MotoLyrics.com

Arise

You've listened to too many liars too long
And too many were your masters
You've got the chance here to right all the wrong
Don't squander it on disaster

You're standing in a bright new dawn
Got hope and belief enough for everyone
Got the opportunity in your hand
Now use it while you can

Arise

People have written you off many times
But you are a great survivor
And though you have suffered some terrible crimes
I know it's just made you stronger

You're standing on your own two feet
Got a morbid past but you've got it beat
Got the key for living sitting in your hand
Now use it while you can

You've got to hold on
To how you feel today
This is the last train
From the wasteland

Arise

And cynics will tell you there's problems ahead
But you go ahead and solve them
They'll fill you with doubt and suspicion and dread
But your strength can overcome them

You got to face the critics down
Any fool can give in but you can't bow down
You got too many lives and futures in your hand
So save them while you can

You've got to hold on

To how you feel today
This is the last train
From the wasteland

And every road that I've walked down
I know your streets I know your towns
I think I know the way you feel
So stand up strong and proud
Fear is not the answer

Arise

And though this is only the start I know
How long they have kept you waiting
No matter how far down the road you go
The first few steps, a new beginning

So grab the future with both hands
Nobody said it'd be the promised land
But you can make it better than it's ever been
So change it while you can

You've got to hold on
To how you feel today
This is the last train
From the wasteland

You've got to hold on
To how you feel today
This is the last train
From the wasteland

Arise

Last train
Last train
Last train
Last train
Last train
Arise

Visit Stiff Little Fingers page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.