It took this long just to feel this way
When nineteen years feels like yesterday
I'd say, "Don't give up the hope!"
But it seems I gave mine away to charity
Yeah, I'm so selfless today.
I expect nothing, it's such a shame

When will I stop running?
Where is my stability?
When I will I stop hiding?
Where is my stability?

From day one I never wanted me
And that works because neither did she
I'd say, "Keep burning strong!"
But it seems I've reached a cold streak, life is bleak
Yeah, I'm giving up today
I'll sleep for days, it's such a shame
When will I stop running?
Where is my stability?
When I will I stop hiding?
Where is my stability?

Don't call me, I am fine. You were right
Don't talk to me, you were right
I'm "too unstable for words".

(That's why I write these one liners)
