Tried to fall down today
I hope you looked cool on the way

Wont tell you what you need to hear
Want someone to hold up the mirror
Ninety nine bottles of fear
Wont tell you what you need to hear

You over there making waves
I'd rather be square dancing on graves

Wont tell you what you need to hear
Want someone to hold up the mirror
Ninety nine bottles of fear
Wont tell you what you need to hear

My poor imagination
I find it hard to feel for you
For your information
I find it hard to believe you

Tried so hard to fall, said fuck it all you're cool, you're scared, you wonder where
It all went wrong
Now your thrills are gone
Always lying down or owning up
You need someone to hate their guts
Your harshest, coldest world
Safe and dear

Does it tell you what you need to hear
Is it someone to hold up the mirror
Ninety nine bottles of fear
Wont tell you what you need to hear
