Resting on my shoulder
A half pound of guilt

You better rest up so you can wait
You did it again you took the bait
Is it a will or act of fate
Make the kill before it's too late

Make a move I'll shoot you
And love you anyway

You better rest up so you can wait
You did it again you took the bait
Is it a will or act of fate
Make the kill before it's too late

Two shades of grey
You sure what you live for
Touch them away
Be sure what you wish for

Running out of patience
Please take your time

You better rest up so you can wait
You did it again you took the bait
Is it a will or act of fate
Make the kill before it escapes
You better rest up so you can wait
You did it again you took the bait
Is it a will or act of fate
Make the kill before it's too late

Two shades of grey
You sure what you live for
Touch them away
Be sure what you wish for
