I've heard the angels and I've seen the devil
Fought with the lion, stepped through the fire
I've been in the valley when it was dry
Walked through the desert to the other side

I'm not a preacher and I'm not a hero
My life has never been that kind
But there is one thing that I hold onto
I am Yours and Lord, You are mine

And through all these years You have been there
Dried all my tears and answered my prayers
I just wanna feel Your presence again
I'm down on my knees in need of a friend
And I'll find You waiting there for me

I've seen a widow cry through her sorrow
And still raise her hands in the midst of it all
And Lord I'm reminded that when I was weary

You carried me, yes You carried me

And through all these years You have been there
Dried all my tears and answered my prayers
I just wanna feel Your presence again
I'm down on my knees in need of a friend
And I'll find You waiting there

And in the midst of a struggle
There is one thing I know, yes I do
You'll never leave me, You'll never let go

I've heard the angels and I've seen the devil
Fought with the lion, stepped straight through that fire

And through all these years You have been there
Dried all my tears and answered my prayers
I just wanna feel Your presence again
I'm down on my knees in need of a friend
And I'll find You waiting, Lord I'll find You waiting here for me
Waiting, I'll find you waiting there
