I tried to keep me in your mind
I tried to keep me by your side
With all the love and times I share with you
You would always find another one, what am I to do

I tried to keep me in your life
I tried to keep me close to you
Even with the love I gave to you
I could always find another one, lying close to you

Baby even after all that we've been though
I can't live my life alone without your love
I can't understand girl, what am I to do but baby it's true

All the love you gave to me
All the lies you said to me at night
I love you so it didn't matter then even after all I had,
I can't leave you in my past.
I will promise you my love will be so true, forever with you

I tried to keep me in your heart with the pain I felt so deep within
With all the love and times I gave you,
I could always find another one, lying next to you

Baby even after all that we've been though
I even tried to live my life alone without your love
I don't understand but girl, what am I to do
But baby it's true

All the love you gave to me
All the lies you said to me at night
I love you so it didn't matter then
Even after all I had, I can't leave you in my past.
I will promise you my love will always be so true, forever with you

If you could understand the way you make me feel Open up your heart and see who's right here waiting by your side

I will always be the man for you and Always be the man too love too, All for you!

[* repeat 2x]
