Some say I'm deceiving. They don't know the reasons for my ways
More precious than fortune and fame is the one that I'm aiming for Some beg for forgiveness. I have never been down on my knees
Everything they say you obey and everything they ask you to do you will do
It's inside me, can't find it in you
It is in everything I do
What's said and done is justified
All for me and me for myself
It's the thing that makes this all go 'round
The end justifies the means No need to point the finger. I already know who takes the blame
I was caught red-handed and fair but there's none to feel sorry for It's late but I move on. I can hear the end calling out my name
Everything they say you obey and everything they ask
you to do you will do
It's inside me, can't find it in you
It is in everything I do
What's said and done is justified
All for me and me for myself
It's the thing that makes this all go 'round
The end justifies the means (I stand up for me - I don't see no one else around - I can't see)
