tired to watch out for my lost feelings once I had (my mind was lost anywhere in other dimensions) tired to think about all my mistakes I have made (time is not moving, the time is creeping, it makes me sick)
once I've done all for you but now I have enough (when will I have my time to sleep for a while) flowing tears - I can't see the light will somebody catch me - if I fall kiss my lost time good night because the black bird is calling

(now break this peace destroying all my memories)
sick
(I know I can't remake all the things I loose)
when will I have my time to sleep for a while (I would live this lost moments I choose) so my heart is standing still if I can't feel the tenderness without your love inside of me I would leave this world in loneliness
