

Declan Galbraith

"For A Better Tomorrow"

Visit "For A Better Tomorrow" on MotoLyrics.com

If you could change, the way that we live
What would we gain, and what we could give
What would we stand, from what would we hide
The future's within you, just look deep inside

For a better tomorrow, would you reach out your hand
Would you stretch out your arms as far as you can
If we all reach together, joining hands we can say
That a better tomorrow, depends on today

What would we teach, and what would we learn
Who'd be left out, and who'd get a turn

Who would we praise, and who would we shame
Would we see how we're different, or how we're the same

For a better tomorrow, would you reach out your hand
Would you stretch out your arms as far as you can
If we all reach together, to the world we can say
That a better tomorrow, begins with today

Reach out your hands
Reach out your arms as far as you can
If we all reach together, joining hands we can say
That a better tomorrow starts today

For a better tomorrow, would you reach out your hand
Would you stretch out your arms as far as you can
If we all reach together, joining hands we can say
That a better tomorrow, depends on today

For a better tomorrow, would you reach out your hand
Would you stretch out your arms as far as you can
If we all reach together, to the world we can say
That a better tomorrow, begins with today

For a better tomorrow, begins with today

