Last night, I awoke with all the answers
Then quickly I grabbed hold of pen and paper
To write down, so in the morning I wouldn't forget.
Next day, I looked over what was written
And oddly it was only ones and zeros
But perfect in the fact that it completed my set.

Product of life, I've been told
Theories are stagnant and old
Time to demystify something new.
Necessity leads us to change
What we discover is strange
Solely depending on point of view.
Tonight, tonight, I turn out my light and dream
Of carbon and protein which increase my might.

Research avoids some regret
Predicting what we will get
Error accepted and therefore gone.
Physics just hinder the dream
Bite the wax tadpole it seems
Progress continues and marches on.
Tonight, tonight, I turn out my light and dream
Of vitamins and haircuts and genetic delights.

Last week, I was working in my kitchen
When oddly, I discovered cold fusion
So I wrote down the process on the back of my hand.
Next time when the recipe repeated
I still thought that something else was needed
Cause texture and flavor were still quite bland.

Product of life, I've been told
Theories are stagnant and old
Time to demystify something new.
Necessity leads us to change
What we discover is strange
Solely depending on point of view.
Tonight, tonight, I turn out my light and dream
Of hygiene and posture, which make me seem right.

Research avoids some regret
Predicting what we will get
Error accepted and therefore gone.
Physics just hinder the dream
Bite the wax tadpole it seems
Progress continues and marches on.
Tonight, tonight, I turn out my light and dream
Of carbon and protein, which increase my might.

I dreamt I was swimming in the ocean
And came face-to-face with a blue whale.
It frightened me the size that it would grow.
And I found my purpose, I must prevent this,
Before he hurts us.
Bite the wax tadpole.
