The city's under an attack
The people look up towards the sky
The evil villain coming
The people running running
He must be seven stories high
There must be something we can do
There must be something we can say
They're crying, "Someone kill him!"
"He's such an evil villain!"
And so I come to save the day because

My robot turns into a plane
My plane transforms into a dinosaur
Evil runs the other way from me, from me
Yeah yeah

The forest fire rages on
It's burning everything in sight
The forest fire coming
The people running, running
There must be some way we can fight
My robot hurries to the lake
My jet drops water from the sky
My dino stomps out fire
And he will never tire
Until the flame completely dies because

My robot turns into a plane
My plane transforms into a dinosaur
Evil runs the other way from me, from me
Yeah yeah

The aliens came down from space
They thought they had us in their hands
Their battleships were coming
The people running, running
You'll be our slaves were their demands
The people knew what they should do
I was the guy they thought of first
Before the spacemen knew it
I showed them that they blew it

And not to mess with the planet Earth because

My robot turns into a plane
My plane transforms into a dinosaur
Evil runs the other way from me, from me
Yeah yeah

My robot, my robot..
