We don't need another water level
We don't need another place to swim
We don't need another world repeating
All the places that we've already been
And now the fish are just too dangerous
And the swimming is much too slow
We don't need another water level
We don't need oh no no no

I've been through the jungle
Many times just today
And I didn't get lost
I've been up to space
With these aliens attacking me
I even fought their boss
But now something smells so fishy
Something ain't right
A new challenge appears
A familiar sight

Oh no, not again

We don't need another water level
We don't need another place to swim
We don't need another world repeating
All the places that we've already been
And now the fish are just too dangerous
And the swimming is much too slow
We don't need another water level
We don't need oh no no no

And now I have to swim again
And get my clothes wet again today
Avoiding killer squid
Seems an evil salmon has torn apart everything
That I already did
And now the baddies are aplenty
And health is rare
So it's back to the surface, back to the surface
Back to the surface to replenish my air

Oh no, not again

We don't need another water level
We don't need another place to swim
We don't need another world repeating
All the places that we've already been
And now the fish are just too dangerous
And the swimming is much too slow

We don't need another water level
We don't need oh no no no
