Mm, mm, mm, mm, mm, mm, mm
I sit and cry, I'll tell you why
I lost my love

I swear I just can't believe how he could walk out on me
My mind's in a daze to think that he walked away
I'll never understand with all the love I gave that man
How he could close the door on me and say goodbye and not a single tear fell from his eye?

I gave all I had and that was driving me mad
I lay in my bed and count the tears that I shed I'll go through every day just like a child who lost his way
My life has lost its meaning since he said goodbye
And I just might as well lay down and die

[Chorus:]

I ain't got the love of the one I love (baby)
I ain't got the love of the one I love (baby)
I ain't got the love of the one...I love...

The look in his eye were hiding all of his lies
Why just yesterday I thought I'm sure he would say
He only wanted me, instead he wanted to be free
And I know that he's already seeing someone else
And I'm just not there talking to myself

[Chorus]

I can't go on another day (I can't go on another day)
You might as well take my life away
I sit and cry, I'll tell you why
I lost my love

And now I cannot disguise all the tears in my eyes
I just can't conceal how brokenhearted I feel
There ain't no melody that can do anything for me
'Cause how can I be happy with the one I love but never had to feel the love for me?

[Repeat Chorus & fade]
