In a warzone where the unknown arise
Under dark clouds where I burned out tonight

I don't stand a chance playing by your rules
When I don't seem to change left out in the cold
Chasing down the ghost eating through my soul
another day to break the spell

Do you feel low pushing all hope aside
Seeing clear now as we turn out the light

I don't stand a chance playing by your rules
When I don't seem to change left out in the cold
Chasing down the ghost eating through my soul
another day to break the spell

In a warzone where the unknown arise
Under dark clouds where I burned out tonight
