I try hard, not to think of You
But my mind won't behave
Sorting through old conversations
To find the piece of love I can save
Your words still ring in my head
Overtones of the things you said

But maybe today
I'll see the reasons why our love had to die
I've been looking for an answer to satisfy me

Feel so lost, feel so empty
I don't how to begin
To find the love that I gave to you

The start of my life fall over again
How can my body forget
The touch of you love
You're still with me yet

But maybe today
I'll see the reasons why our love had to die
I've been searching for the answers to satisfy me, satisfy
Me
Maybe today
I'll see, I'll see the reasons why our love had to die
I've been looking for an answer to satisfy me
