Not every word that you say to me is a lie,
But I'll stand forever as this relationship slides,
Away from where it started from,
You will go and I will stand strong,
Everything you ever thought was right,
Is wrong.

Now I'm breaking away,
And we're falling apart,
Your hitting me with your hands,
I'm hitting back with my heart.
The flame inside has burned out,
For everything that we were,
Looking for the one,
You're not her.

Not every word that you said to me was a lie,
But I stood forever and watched this relationship slide,
Away from where it started from,
As you stood well I just stood strong,
Everything you ever thought was right,
Was wrong.

Now I'm breaking away,
And we're falling apart,
Your hitting me with your hands,
I'm hitting back with my heart.
The flame inside has burned out,
For everything that we were,
Looking for the one,
You're not her.

No more tears I'm telling you,
That I don't miss you now.
I've realised this is the truth,
Somehow.
