I've been singin this song for too long
Just wishing we all would move on Sick and tired of doing what you want
Youve gone and turned us all into shit (hits)
Seems a little watered down
Everybody wana be a rap artist now
Tryin to get the platnium regardless how Hard you played yourself to get the fame

Aint it a damn shame music today
Fads the same so you aint got shit to say
Expect the kids to pay this expensive fee
When they can get an mp3 off their friends cd
Especially if there's less than three tracks you like
If it was worth spending money then we actually might
So much crap on the mic labels aint acting right
Makin cash from the hype like the passion of christ
Just imagine the lights camera action the life
The cars the cash the stars flashin their ice
Cartees r&b pop queens gasin you up
Fashion thugs passin you drugs in back of the club
You want a part of it but is that all an artist is
A blank mind with a spine made of cartilage
Hard as it may seem it pays to stay dreamin
Away from the mainstream just prayin you'll break even

Hip-hop music [wha wha]what is it
[Much greater than your bentely or lexus]
Hip-hop music [wha wha]what is it
[Do not connect us with no champagne sippin money
fakers]

Well aint I just a star seated on this bus

You might recognize me but keep it on the hush
You might wana ask me what I'm doin takin transit
Or workin at this place makin your bacon sandwiches
Kids be actin kinda funny cause they see me
In a couple little shitty rap videos on tv
Ya I got a name but maybe two dollars to it
Just tryin to cop a chain makin blue collar music
The truth is aint much has changed
Still seems that kraft dinner sucks the same
Hard to come up in the game with a buck in change
So tough luck for the other guy or what'shisname
Hey my shit has falled below my goal
What I expect I know to ever get the shows
The man has his hands up I aint collectin dough
So on and on like a broken record it goes
