Yeah, alright, yeah
I won't stand still not holding my breath
When they say no I'm telling them yes
Got a burning desire inside of my chest
Ribcage ablaze, fire proof flesh
Won't feel rushed and I won't feel pressed
Don't like burns don't like stress
Nothing is certain I work with the yes
I learned to adopt and accept missteps
Got a birds eye view over your head
You could to got wings just spread
Act alive don't act dead
Run wild, get naked, go to work, get fed
Maybe I'm a dreamer
Maybe I'm a leader
Maybe I'm neither
I aint a believer
Long as I stand here, as long as I breathe here
Trying to live life and be free before I leave here

The first is the last picking through the remnants
Living in the past, future, present
Use to be all then I grew younger hand in the clouds
Then I feel thunder telling me cool
Feels like a sunburn this is my song
What if no one heard, now, welcome to the runway
Welcome to the nucleus
Everybody wanna be stars
Wanna look down on the earth, mars, venus
Least that what the dream is
Fire in the heart, birth of the phoenix
A life for the light, night
Infinite life is infinite genius
Till the day that I eat clips
Remade for the age of the remix!
