Haven't you heard about a fairy tale?
At a winter's night end of the year in five
The given one land to the world and now
Haven't you received a message from her?
That she's writing down on the wall with words of luck and stars
And you know, it's all just lies

To show you I missed
Those words out from your lips
You're a curse you're my gift

I wipe all your tears
At the side of the hill
When you felt all your fears

Please tell me all
Your alibis you left
This suffering comes twice
Sweet lullaby your angel lies you sing
I dream of you tonight
The world collide I still survive you have My heart and ripped it out
We're breaking up you watch me fall
It's so fragile inside

Oh glory brightest son of life
Stop dropping me down
Don't take away don't kill the light
And now I've gone blind
And now if I owe you one I soon will refund
I'd rather stand with broken arms than feel my heart burn

I wipe all your tears
At the side of the hills
When you felt all your fears
Leave me alone

It's all just lies
Why can't you just leave?
