Waiting, staring at the blue sky
Burning from the outside in
Same old thoughts of going home
There's two in this house but I feel all alone

I could easily forgive his pride
If he had not forgotten mine
The thought of staying in this place
To disappear without a trace

Im ready to leave here now
And let my life begin again
Ready to leave here now
Get me out of here

I know I've made a big mistake
I only really know his face

I didnt want to go that night
But he grabbed my hand
And we boarded the Flight

Im ready to leave here now
And let my life begin again
Ready to leave here now
Get me out of here

Waiting, waiting here
Wasting, wasting here

Im ready to leave here now
And let my life begin again
Ready to leave here now
Im ready to leave
Yes Im ready
Im ready to leave here now
Get me out of here
