There were things I should have said
The words were in my head
So what's it gonna be
She's looking out of the window
Staring at me and she says

I've seen it all go down
I close my eyes I'm tired of watching
I've seen it all go down

She said she had to leave
Because the trash was oh so white
She took another step
And then she couldn't take another
She didn't have one left and she says

I've seen it all go down
I close my eyes I'm tired of watching
I've seen it all go down

So close your eyes little girls and I'll sing
Let the melody hit you

I swear that you won't be feeling a thing
No need for those pills that they give you

So close your eyes little girls and I'll sing
Let the melody hit you

I swear that you won't be feeling a thing
No need for those pills that they give you
Pills that they give you

I've seen it all go down
I close my eyes I'm tired of watching
I've seen it all go down
