(Verse)

Smiling, you were always smiling
How could I have known that you were
Hiding, your feelings from me
I wondered how could it be
Your note there, says you don't love me
My worst fear, is now reality

(Chorus)

You picked a fine time to tell me you don't love me
You picked a fine time to tell me you don't care
And what I thought was love was really just pretending
And your love for me was never really there
(Never really there)

(Verse)

Trying, I am always trying
To understand the reason why I'm
Crying, day and night I'm crying
I can't believe I was so blind
(It's so clear)
It's so clear
That you don't love me
(My worst fear)
My worst fear is now reality and

(Chorus)

(Bridge)

(How many nights did I sleep alone)
Waiting by the phone
(I couldn't see what was going on)
Told myself our love's still strong
(I weighed your trust when times were down)
Another love you have found
(There's nothing left no more to hide)
And there's no easy way to say good-bye

Repeat Chorus Until Fade...
