When the rain starts to fall
And there is noone who would come
Sitting beside the fire, staying warm.

In that moment Sun starts to shine
Then birds are flying all around
It's like a song of freedom mine
Telling everyone hello and goodbye.

Like the water, flowing slow,
Like the wind who is blowing alone
Reveal the secret out of soul
Spirits all are here, inside my bone.

Never forget how beautiful life could be
How day could starts with a smile
All the worries, all are gone
Just to feel alive,
Makes you able to survive!
