One rock 'n' roll too many
One night's sleep too few
Too much ringing that bell
Takes its toll out of you

The sound's too loud
The light's too bright
My trunks are too heavy
And my shoes are too tight
One rock n' roll too many
Takes its toll out, out of you

One rock 'n' roll too many
One more joint put out
One more twist of the wrist
Makes you twist, twist and shout

There's been too many strobes and laser beams
You got too many nightmares and not enough dreams,
One rock 'n' roll too many
Takes its toll out, out of you

One rock 'n' roll too many
I can't hear no more
What do ya say?
I can't hear nothing
What do ya say?
I can't hear nothing
I can't hear nothing, what do ya say?
I can't hear nothing, what do ya say?

One rock 'n' roll too many
Takes its toll...out of...you...
