Today - I took it from you Today - gave it back too late Today I know I need you/face it without you Today I threw it all away...

Spoken words from those days far behind echo through my head
Endless loops like a shivering sign show me to regret

I learned from you - lived for you - needed you always I took from you - weakened you... You Feel a wave of your warmth that you gave and I lost it all

Now this emptiness is all that will stay - on a faceless wall
