"The Turning"

Lurking out of sight
Night shall fall and feed my frenzy
Beneath an eerie moon a change comes over me

Eyes glow by candlelight
A face divided in the mirror
My psyche ripped by daggers of my alchemy

Side by side with myself again
As midnight's curse descends on trembling hands

Oh - save my soul
Losing control when the bells toll

Savage on the prowl
In the lamplight's glow - nocturnal
My breath hangs like ghosts in the evening air

This I'll effect - a vile creation
Of my design - abomination
The madness rages on and on...

Side by side with myself again
As midnight's curse descends on trembling hands

Oh - save my soul
Losing control when the bells toll
Oh - feed my soul
I'm in control - when the bells toll
