I can't believe it's all been lost
Love was deceived and I've been tossed
All this time playing with my future
Trouble has come and I'm the loser

There was the time that I believed in you
There was the time you said you cared
But honey, you lied
Your actions been provin' it
Don't apologize, I just want my freedom

* Freedom to say no more, freedom to shut the door
Freedom not to forget all the pain
Baby, I want freedom
Freedom to love again, freedom to find romance
Freedom to walk with my someone to treat me right
I want freedom
I just want my freedom

Yesterday's tears has come again
Tomorrow's tears are all the same
You played me well, you use imagination
And what an extra smooth operation
Who me?

There was the time that I believe promises
There was the time I wanted you
But honey, you lied
Your actions been provin' it
Don't apologize, I just want my freedom

(* Repeat)

You said that you cared, you said that I was you're only one
You said I was your moonchild, the stars and sun
You said that I was your mountain and I was your dream
And I was the height of your everything
Oh, you made me believe, but I was just set up
You broke down my defenses and you took all my love
Now what am I to do? My heart's invested in you

It's such a devastation, aggravation, mass confusion
I want freedom

I just want my freedom

(* Repeat)

(Instrumental interlude)

You said that you cared, you said that I was your only
one

You said I was your moonchild, the stars and sun
You said that I was your mountain and I was your

And I was the height of your everything

Now what am I to do? My heart's invested in you

It's such a devastation, aggravation, mass confusion

I... want freedom

I just want my freedom

(* Repeat)
