Don't you look into that eye again.
The spark you saw there deep inside is dangerous my friend.
And will you try another round?
Before they shoot you to the ground.
Oh no - we never never know just when to leave.
We're close to red alert and we scream.

System breakdown - we used to rule now where's our golden crown

Will you ever feel your heart again.
You think for sure you'll free your dreams somewhen.
Or just get sleepless nights - the sweetest nights.
When the love you shared back then is out of sight.
Oh no - you never never know when to believe
Jump the ship right away before you get another

System breakdown

Shake me breake me just come on and take me.
But you can't put out the flame
That burns inside.
Blind me grind me just come on rewind me
But I'll still be standing here eyes open wide.
Oh no - we never never know just when to leave.
It hurt's to feel the heat and we scream
