You broke into this world of mine
Stole my heart, you robbed me blind
While I wasn't looking at all,
Without a warning or a sign,
It seems You caught me by surprise
Now I know the reason why
Love is the alibi

And I can't get past the evidence,
I can't get past the proof,
I can't get past the evidence
It's impossible to do
I can't get past the evidence and I can't deny the truth
I can't get past the evidence of you

We look for pieces on the way
To fix the puzzle of this place
Is there an equation to life?
But in the midst of every day
There's a clue there is a trace
A remnant of love remains
I'm ready to rest my case

Beyond the shadow of a doubt
I see the light
I'm a victim of a love
I can't deny
I'll be the first to testify,
That I can't get past the evidence of You
