"Carry The Light"

Anyone who comes to You
Anyone at all
With arms wide open
Anyone who reaches out
Any time at all
With a heart that's broken

You will be the shelter
You will have the answer
For anyone who ever
Cries out
In need
I believe there You will be
I stand on Your promise
Your love is forever
And I believe with all my heart
You are my water
Holy savior
You are the comfort when my world falls apart
Into the ends of the earth
And for the rest of my life
I'll carry the light

Anytime I turn to You
Anytime at all
I find You waiting
Waiting for the chance to help me
Hold me, heal me
Show me just how amazing
Life can be when you know what it is to be free
To be free

Over the mountains, into the valleys
Crossing the ocean, I'll carry the light
And through the darkness
To all the hopeless for the all the broken I'll carry the light
