With friends, like these
There's no need to worry your head, it seems
They know everything
Hand on the heart they see how you should feel

But oh, how the mighty all fall down
Heavy in a sea of principles they drown

They have only one dream, only one way
With only one vision and thought for the day

With friends like these
Cautioning the way the world is turning
I want to know, will they ever, ever see or be sure?
There's another way your mind is working

Now right or wrong they never walk alone
How lucky are the few who know where they belong
For they have

Only one dream, only one way
With only one vision and thought for the day

There is only
(There is only one dream)
Yeah, there is only one way

With only one vision
([Incomprehensible])
Thought for the day
(Here's your thought for the day)

Yeah, yeah, yeah
Your thought for the day
(Here's your thought for the day)
