You are an illusion
Never what you seem
The voice of confusion
That I can make believe
I know the touch of your lips on me
Isn't real
A fantasy sensation
And there's a name for these dreams

And I'm tearing down
The wall around you
So you'll feel love
That'll open your eyes
Like a bolt that came out of the blue

For no man is an island
And I've been looking for you
Oh, when love has found a home
The sun will shine upon you
Everywhere that you go
And you will see
In my love you will grow

So breathless
I can't speak
Hoping for the day, yeah, yeah
The briefest encounter
But I can hardly wait
Oh, I only want to say it to you
Face to face
The best is yet to come
You'll feel my love come your way

And I won't let you
Forget about me
Soon you'll learn
My love is wide
As I surround you like the sea

For no man is an island
And I've been looking for you

Oh, when love has found a home
The sun will shine upon you
Everywhere that you go
And you will see
In my love you will grow

We can grow like children
And live and learn you know
Like a bolt out of the blue
It hits you
Oh, and it's true
There's nowhere to go

Hey, for no man is an island
And I've been looking for you
Oh, when love has found a home
And the sun will shine upon you
And you will see

For no man is an island
And I've been looking for you
Oh, when love has found a home
You will see, you will see
In my love you will grow

For no man is an island
And I've been looking for you
Looking out for you
When love has found a home
The sun will shine upon you
Everywhere that you go
You will see, you will see
In my love you will grow

For no man is an island
And I've been looking for you
Fall out of the blue
When love has found a home
And the sun will shine upon you
You will see, you will see
In my love you will grow
