As if the wait was not enough
And one can only take so much
You broke into pieces
Seems hopeless now, but at least you know the tables can turn around,
And time will repair you

(Chorus)

And The rain comes and goes, and all is forgiven
Can we learn to let go, so all is forgiven

You're on your knees reaching out Reaching for someone to lift you up right off the ground,
Is anyone out there?
You can't breathe, you're chokin, you'll make it through, just keep holding on,
I know that it won't be long, til somebody saves you

(Chorus)

And the times burn away, and all is forgiven,
Let the night turn to day, so all is forgiven,

Don't stop the rain from pouring down
Let it wash away the pain where it can't be found

And The rain comes and goes, and all is forgiven,
Can we learn to let go,
So all is forgiven
And the times burn away, and all is forgiven
Let the night turn to day, so all is forgiven

All is forgiven (x2)
