"Underestimation"

The dangers were exposed daily
Never cease to amaze me
We tend to underestimate shit
That could really fuck us up
We may not know if something's tested
We may find out that were the test
They tell us what they want to tell us
They don't want a nation panic
What if we were an experiment
A measly 100 lives to save a million
Underestimation is the key word
Of the stupid motherfuckers who think
They rule our world
Officials could work against us
And cover shit up
At times we think they're working for us
But then reality develops
