All these changes taking place
It was time I didn't waste
No regrets here to erase
Throw them all away

Without you
Would I feel
Without you
Would I find someone new
Without you
Now I see what I put you through

When most would fade away

It's my thoughts of you that stayed
There is no place to run to
If I lost this view

Without you
Would I feel
Without you
Would I find someone new
Without you
Now I see what I put you through

And now there's nothing left I can do
