As the waves crash, the clouds roll [x2]

Sit on the dock waiting for the sun
Wait for the coward but he never comes Pray for revenge on him
Steam rises as the boats come in, one by one

You know she is gone
You know there's no saving her
You know she is gone
You know
Her cheating, her weak will, the addiction, that needle

When you come home to find her lying on the floor
You're reminded of those sleepless nights that will haunt you for the rest of your life
Blue collar shipyard, any way to keep her alive
Sun up to sun down, sun up to sun down
Blistered hands and a parched mouth

You know she is gone
You know there's no saving her
You know she is gone
You know
Her cheating, her weak will, the addiction, that needle
[x2]
