"Cloud Cuckoo Land"

We are melting into the white cloud.
We are melting into the colors.
We are looking up the white cloud.
With white clothes and a pair of white socks on.
(Little fluffy clouds).
We are floating among the various colors.
(Little fluffy clouds).
We think about colors spending the day.
(Little fluffy clouds).
With white clothes and a pair of white socks on.
(Little fluffy clouds).
See, see, what can we see?
Beautiful colors?
We are melting into the white cloud.
We are melting into the colors.
Cloud is floating in white spectrum.
We are floating among the various colors.
(Sir Isaac Newton)
"The rays are not colored."
(Thomas Merton)
"A daydream is an evasion."

(Johannes Itten)
"Objects are not colored.
(Little fluffy clouds).
The light creates the color."
"What were the skies like when we were young?"
The cloud cutting off the light is a crowd of colors.
But the cloud looks like white white white white white which means,
white is the greatest color of all!
White is the greatest color!
Greatest color!
We think about colors spending the day.
With white clothes and a pair of white socks on.
We think about philosophy of white.
But things in the head can't defeat the power of science.
We can see, it's cloudic non-sense.
See, see, what we can see?
Beautiful colors, beautiful...
