another day goes by of this insanity we fight one another not the real enemy rich bastard scum still rule this land while their stolen wealth and positions of power go unchallenged judges, lawyers and an army of police put property over human life and cage thousands every day while we're bashing our heads against the same old walls divisions in our class insure their positions of power

fight the real enemy
fight the real enemy
they ain't never gonna stop until we fucking stop them
fight the real enemy
stop fighting one another, fight the real fight
fight the real enemy

corporations and bosses reap profit by millions as we slave to make them rich, we all live in shit the religious right grows stronger in numbers leading legions of brainwashed masses into submission nazi scum still violently emerge for fucks sake why don't they get the boot they deserve all these people freely take our rights are you happy with it? well it makes me fucking sick there's plenty of legitimate targets that surround us recognize the oppression and real enemies around us racist, sexist shit keeps us divided only when we unite will they ever be defeated lets get past that shit there's an enemy before us stop making it easier for the system that destroys us when we start working together on our own with no leaders and stop giving those bastards opportunity to beat us and fight the real enemy
